LATE EASTERN NEWS.

The San Francisco papers received by steamer contain the following late Eastern news:

Extraordinary Commotion in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb 21.—The President to-day sent an Executive Message to the Senate stating that on the 12th day of August last, under the authority vested in him by the Constitution, he suspended E. M. Stanton as Secretary of War, and now by the same authority he had removed [illegible] Stanton and appointed in his place [illegible] Adjutant General Lorenzo Thomas. The President encloses letters sent to Stanton and Thomas.

The Speaker laid before the House to-day the following correspondence:

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, Feb 21, 1868.
Sir: General Thomas has just delivered to me a copy of the enclosed order, which you will please communicate to the House of Representatives.
Your obedient, E. M. STANTON, Sec. of War.
To Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, February 21st 1868.
Sir: By virtue of the power and authority vested in me, as President, by the Constitution and laws of the United States you are hereby removed from office as Secretary of War, and your functions as such will terminate upon the receipt of this communication.
You will transfer to Brevet Major General Thomas, Adjutant General of the Army, who has this day been authorized to act as Secretary of War ad interim, all records, books, papers, and other public property now in your custody and charge.
Respectfully yours, ANDREW JOHNSON, President.
To Hon. E. M. Stanton.

CHICAGO, Feb 21.—The Republican's special says that soon after the Senate went into Executive session, a Committee consisting of Senators Cameron, Chandler, Conkling and Hager, proceeded to the War Office and informed Secretary Stanton that pending any action, it was the desire of the Senate that he should retain the office in disregard of any orders from the President to the contrary. The Committee also waited upon General Grant and had an interview with him to express themselves as entirely satisfied with Grant's position regarding this matter.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Feb 21.—Mr. Wilson introduced a bill into the Senate yesterday providing for the retirement of officers for wounds received in the volunteer service, under the same conditions as if serving in the regular army.

The President sent to the Senate to-day the following nominations: George B. McClellan, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to England; James R. Hubbell of Ohio, Minister Resident for the Republic of Ecuador; Major General George H. Thomas, to be Lieutenant General by brevet and General by brevet; Wm. H. Farley to be Surveyor General of California.

It is expected the Senate will soon take up the nomination of J. Ross Browne as Minister to China. There is apparently no objection to his confirmation.

CHICAGO, Feb 21.—The Tribune's special says the House Judiciary Committee has had for some time under consideration the petition of Mr. McGarratin, asking to have confirmed to him the title of the Parishee Grande (Panoche Grande?) Mineral Tract in California, one of the richest quicksilver mines ever known. It has heard numerous lengthy arguments on both sides, and will soon report, confirming the old Mexican title under which McGarratin claims, upon his paying the minimum price for mineral lands.

NEW YORK, Feb 21.—The Tribune's special says that prominent Democrats are urging the President to appoint General Hancock in place of Sherman to the command of the Military Division of the Atlantic.

CHICAGO, Feb 19.—The Republican's special says the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, has voted to return Sherman's brevet to the President, with a resolution declaring it inadvisable to confer brevets on the officers of the two highest grades. It is stated that Johnson is highly indignant at Sherman's conduct, and has a great mind to order him to the Department of the Pacific and bring Halleck to Washington.

The President has accepted Sedman's resignation as Collector of Internal Revenue at New Orleans.

The Tribune's special says that Sherman has written a letter to General Grant respectfully asking to be relieved of the command of the military division. The letter will be laid before the President. Senators have written to Sherman asking him not to think of resigning should the President insist on his assuming the new command.

CHICAGO, Feb 19.—The bill for the reduction of the army passed the Senate yesterday. It provides that no more second lieutenants will be appointed except graduates of West Point. The grades of regimental commissary sergeant, hospital stewards, veterinary surgeon and regimental commissary in cavalry regiments will be abolished. The number of corporals in each company will be reduced to four. The fourteen military bands authorized by the act of July, 1866, will be honorably discharged. Mr. Wilson says if it becomes a law, we will save $2,000,000 yearly.

WASHINGTON, Feb 19.—The Naval Court Martial has sentenced Captain Napoleon Collins to suspension of rank and from duty for three years, receiving the pay of Captain on the retired list, and to be publicly reprimanded for the loss of the steamer Sacramento. Lieutenant Commander Bache, navigating officer of the Sacramento, received a similar sentence, with one year instead of three years. The Secretary of the Navy has approved the sentence.

A delegation from the City Council of Baltimore, to-day, presented the President with resolutions of that body complimentary to him.

NEW YORK, Feb 20.—A Washington special says General Sherman in his letter courteously indicates his preference for service outside of Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb 20.—The President has revoked that portion of his order assigning General Sherman to the command of the newly created Division of the Atlantic, and he will, therefore, command the Division of Missouri. No new assignment is made for the Division of the Atlantic, though that portion of the order is not revoked.

The Board of Army Officers consisting of Sherman, Sheridan and Augur, which recently convened in this city to examine the proposed system of army regulations, has been dissolved.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb 19.—In the Senate Mr. Trumbull, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported adversely on the bills for a more efficient government for the rebel States. He said that they were rendered unnecessary by the recent amendment reported by the Committee providing that a majority of votes cast shall decide the elections. He also reported adversely on the bill to regulate service by any Court of Equity.

Mr. Fessenden reported a bill to enlarge the capitol grounds.

Mr. Wilson introduced a joint resolution declaring that

Whereas, The Reconstruction Acts provided that the electors in each State should have opportunity to vote freely without restraint, fear [illegible] the election for the adoption of the Constitution; and whereas in the Alabama election [illegible] opportunity to freely [illegible] fraud, owing to threats of dismissal from employment and the hostile and menacing attitude of [illegible] persons, and whereas Congress is satisfied that the Constitution of Alabama was not approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the State; therefore

Resolved, That the Constitution of Alabama is hereby declared to be in conformity with the provisions of the Reconstruction Act of March 2d, 1867, and said Constitution is hereby approved, and whenever the Legislature elected under said Constitution shall ratify the fourteenth article of the Constitution, said State shall be entitled to representation in Congress [illegible] with the other States of the country.

The resolution was referred to the Judiciary Committee. Mr. Wilson said he should call it up at an early day, when he would make a statement of the outrages perpetrated in that State in violation of the right to vote without fear or restraint.

Mr. Morton introduced a bill to remove the disabilities of Gov. Holden of North Carolina.

Considerable discussion ensued on the general subject of extending and [illegible] by a bill extending the time for the completion of the Sioux City Railroad, which was amended and passed.

The Senate took up the resolution for the admission of Thomas [illegible]. Mr. Howard addressed the Senate in reply to [illegible] Mr. Trumbull yesterday. Messrs. Howard and Drake spoke in favor of the [illegible]. Mr. [illegible] opposed the admission [illegible] debate [illegible] the admission [illegible].

In the House Mr. [illegible] introduced a bill to establish a Law Department, [illegible] was ordered printed.

Mr. Wilson reported a bill providing for the surrender of persons convicted of certain crimes. The bill provides that no person who has been duly arrested [illegible] in the United States. It authorizes the President on the [illegible] that such persons have [illegible] returned [illegible]. The bill was passed.

The House proceeded to [illegible] certain amendments, twenty-nine in number, reported from the Committee of the Whole on the Legislative Appropriation Bill.

An amendment adding 20 per cent to the appropriation for salaries of the employees of each House was adopted. All the other amendments were disposed of and the bill passed.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Army Appropriation bill. The bill appropriates, in the aggregate, a little over thirty three millions.

Mr. Blaine moved to add a proviso that no new commission shall be issued to any regiment, except those which by law are entitled to the appointment of second lieutenants graduating at West Point, but the provision shall not be construed to deprive any officer of whatever promotion may be opened by the occurrence of vacancies.

The proviso gave rise to considerable discussion, Messrs. Logan and Washburn opposing it on the ground of favoritism of West Point Cadets. Mr. Schenck opposed it as being an attempt to legislate generally in an appropriation bill. The amendment was adopted by 88 to 41. Further discussion ensued. Mr. Blaine said the proviso had been inserted after consultation with General Grant. Mr. Butler said, as one of the members of the Committee on Appropriations, he did not wish to be made responsible for the proviso. He wished to wash his hands of it, and thought the country had fallen on evil times when the army was to be cut up or cut down at the request of any officer, the army had been put in the hands of the representatives of the people, and the last who ought to influence those representatives, as to the strength of the army, was the General. Such a precedent might hereafter prove fatal to the liberties of the country.

Mr. Blaine hoped it would not be considered derogatory in the first officer in the army to recommend a reduction in the military force.

Mr. Butler asked where in the Constitution the General of the army found the right to recommend anything to Congress?

Mr. Blaine said he was not speaking of the Constitution. If the General recommended an increase of the military force, there might be some ground for jealousy and sensitiveness, but when he recommended reduction he could see no cause for alarm.

Finally the discussion closed, and the Committee proceeded to other portions of the bill, and after some time spent in its consideration the Committee rose.

The Speaker presented several Executive communications in response to resolutions of inquiry.

A resolution was adopted asking the President to communicate all correspondence relative to conferring brevet rank on Gen. Sherman, also, relative to the establishment of a new military district.

The House then adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Feb 20.—In the Senate Mr. Stewart reported a bill to establish a National School of Mines, with sundry amendments.

Mr. Trumbull moved to take up the House Supplemental Reconstruction bill. He denied the charges made by some newspapers, that the Senate was responsible for the requirement that a majority of registered voters must vote for the ratification of the Constitution, and said the House insisted on this provision, and the Senate finally adopted it by only one majority. Mr. Trumbull went on to show that he had been a prominent opponent of the majority principle.

Mr. Buckalew offered an amendment requiring ten days residence in the district before the election. The bill allows registered persons to vote in any district in the State where they are registered, without reference to the time they have been in the district.

Mr. Davis took the floor to finish his speech which was interrupted some days since by a motion to admit Mr. Thomas of Maryland. He moved to repeal all the acts heretofore passed on the subject of reconstruction.

After the conclusion of Mr. Davis' speech, Mr. Conkling got the floor, but after a running debate, the understanding was had that the bill be passed to-morrow, and opportunity be given to debate the supplemental reconstruction bill, consideration of which is to follow immediately.

In the House Mr. Hulburd of New York offered a resolution which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Public Expenditures to inquire into the receipts of Henry A. Smythe, Collector of the Port of New York, in his official capacity, whether such receipts were derived from fines, penalties and forfeitures, or otherwise, and examine witnesses under oath.

On motion of Mr. Clarke the Postmaster General was directed to furnish various items of information in regard to the Overland Mail.

Mr. Banks, from the Committee of Foreign Affairs reported a bill concerning the rights of American citizens in foreign States, which was recommitted. Following is the bill in full:

Whereas, The right of expatriation is the natural and inherent right of all people, and indispensable to the enjoyment of the rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, for the protection of which the Government of the United States was established; and

Whereas, In recognition of this principle, this Government has freely received emigrants from all nations and invested them with the rights of citizenship; and whereas it is claimed that all such American citizens with their descendants are subjects of foreign States and owing allegiance to the Government thereof; and

Whereas, It is necessary to the maintenance of public peace that the claim of foreign allegiance should be promptly and finally disavowed;

Therefore be it enacted, &c. That any declaration, instruction, opinion, order or decision, of any officer of this Government which denies, restricts, impairs or questions the right of expatriation is hereby declared inconsistent with the fundamental principles of the Government, and therefore null and void.

Sec. 2. That all naturalized citizens of the United States in foreign States, shall be entitled to receive from the Government the same protection of person and property accorded to native born citizens in like situation.

Sec. 3. That whenever it shall be fully made known to the President that any citizen of the United States has been arrested and is detained by any foreign Government in contravention of [illegible], upon the allegation that naturalization in the United States does not operate to dissolve his allegiance to his native sovereign, or if any citizen shall have been arrested and detained, whose release upon demand, shall have been unnecessarily delayed or refused, the President shall be and is hereby empowered to order the arrest of any foreign citizen or subject, and detain in custody such subject of such foreign Government who may be found within the jurisdiction of the United States; and the President shall [illegible] give information to Congress of any such proceedings under this act.

Mr. Hopkins, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill to regulate the disposition of lands hereafter to be granted to railroads. It provides that these lands shall be hereafter granted to States or Territories to be sold to actual settlers, the price not to exceed $2 50 per acre, the proceeds to be paid to the railroad company. The object is to prevent the withdrawal of large quantities of land from the market and their monopoly by corporations, and to encourage the settlement of the country.

Mr. McClurg from the Committee on Southern railroads reported facts, which have been developed indicating corruption in the Postoffice Department and offered a resolution directing an investigation of the subject. Adopted.

A large number of bills passed granting individual pensions.

Mr. Logan offered a resolution inquiring of the Secretary of the Treasury relative to the conversion of Ten-forty bonds, at what rates they were received, etc. Adopted.

The House went into Committee of the Whole to consider the Army Appropriation Bill. After discussion the Committee rose and reported the bill to the House, and the amendment for the reduction of the army was adopted by 67 to 62. The bill and amendments being disposed of, the bill passed.

Mr. Logan moved to amend the title by adding [illegible]

Some debate [illegible]

A ten further animated debate, the vote by which the bill passed was reconsidered, and Mr. Blaine withdrew the objectionable proviso, and the bill passed without it.

The House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Feb 21.—In the Senate Mr. Williams introduced a bill to provide for the registration of electors in territories. Referred.

Mr. Grimes read from the Globe a portion of the speech of Hendricks on the Reconstruction Bill. A difference of opinion had occurred between himself and others about the date of a telegram having been sent by J. H. Harvey in 1861, informing the authorities that Sumter would be attacked. He (Grimes), heard that the telegram was to that effect, and he said he remembered distinctly that such had been the impression of a majority of this body, but, it seemed from the letter he had received from Harvey that they had been mistaken. The letter was read, and considerable discussion followed, during which it was charged that the telegram which Cameron, Sumner and Conkling said they had seen, was sent at the instigation of Seward, without the knowledge of the Cabinet, some claiming that Mr. Lincoln had been cognizant of it. Mr. Johnson charged that Seward at one time had carried on a correspondence with the War and Navy Departments without the knowledge of the heads of those Departments. The matter was allowed to drop, and after some time the usual business was proceeded with.

The Senate took up the special order which was the bill to amend the Reconstruction Acts so that a majority of votes cast shall decide the elections and allow all persons registered to vote in any part of the State. Mr. Conkling took the floor and after considerable discussion between him and Mr. Trumbull without reaching a vote, the Senate went into executive session.

In the House, Mr. Baldwin reported an international copyright bill, which was ordered printed. Mr. Pruyn made a minority report on the same subject.

Mr. Jencks, from the Committee on Patents, reported a bill granting leave of extension to Smith & Wesson's patent. Passed.

The Speaker presented a communication from the Postmaster General, denying the truth of the testimony published in the Globe, implicating him in letting contracts for carrying the Southern mails. He asked for a thorough investigation of the whole matter.

Mr. Kelly introduced a bill to provide for a uniform system of small coins.

Mr. Cavanagh introduced a bill to provide for mail service between Helena, Montana, and Fort Abercrombie.

The House went into Committee of the Whole to consider the Naval Appropriation Bill. It appropriates a little over $18,000,000.

After debate, Mr. Butler offered an amendment providing that all unexpended balances, subject to the order of the Secretary of the Navy, July 1st, 1868, be conveyed into the Treasury, and no amount appropriated in the bill shall be drawn while any other unexpended moneys remain subject to the order of the Secretary of the Navy. Adopted.

The Committee rose, and the Speaker presented several Executive communications, including one from the Secretary of War. After some debate, the correspondence was referred to the Reconstruction Committee, with authority to report at any time.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Naval Appropriation Bill, and after a little while, Mr. Boutwell moved that the Committee now rise, saying that he wished to provide for a regular session to-morrow. He thought that when the Government was so far subverted as to have two Secretaries of War, the House should attend to public business. The Committee rose, and after considerable debate, the House reconsidered its vote ordering the session to-morrow to be devoted to general debate, and rescinded the motion by a strict party vote. The House again went into Committee of the Whole on the Navy Appropriation Bill. After some time spent in its consideration the Committee rose and consideration of the bill was postponed to Monday.

Mr. Covode, as a question of privilege offered the following:

Resolved, That Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, be impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors.

Mr. Wood objected to the introduction of the resolution.

The Speaker stated that the resolution was a question of privilege.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Reconstruction, and the House adjourned.

Meade visited the Convention and made a short speech. The Convention will readopt the Constitution thus far adopted by the majority.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb 19.—The committee on Style have made so many changes in the language of the Constitution that one member said the Convention hardly recognized its own creation. Work, therefore, has been laid out for an indefinite period.

The minority report defending the eligibility of the members in question, was presented but not adopted, and the convention adjourned. Considerable disturbance occurred after the adjournment. One man was shot and the parties were arrested by the police.

It is believed the Convention will now proceed to consummate its legitimate business.

RICHMOND, Feb 20.—Considerable excitement was caused in the Convention yesterday by the distribution among the members, of a list of pamphlets from Washington arguing Grant's unfitness for the Presidency. One member denounced it as an insult to the majority who preferred General Grant for President. A leading Republican member in a speech, said he was convinced from the temper of those who formerly controlled the State that a certain amount of disfranchisement was still necessary.

JACKSON, Miss., Feb 20.—A communication from Gen. Gillem was read to the Convention to-day. It says the destitution is not so bad as many suppose. He [illegible] the sufferings of all classes. This case excites much feeling among the Jews who regard it as involving rights and privileges similar to those violated in the Mortara affair at Rome and represent the outrage as an insult to Prussia.

The United States Senate

The term of office of twenty one of the present members of the United States Senate will expire in March, 1869. But on no possible contingency can the Democrats have a majority in that body at the beginning of the next Administration. The Unionists have gained a Senator in Tennessee, and the Democrats have gained one in California and one in Ohio. Maryland has also elected a new Senator to take the place of Reverdy Johnson, but this makes no political change. So far, the Democrats have made a clear gain of one Senator. Dixon, the Connecticut Senator, whose term will expire in 1869, is a Johnson man, and has acted with the Democrats during the last two years. It is doubtful which party will elect the Senator in Connecticut, for though the Democrats elected their Governor last year (by a very small majority) the Republicans carried both branches of the Legislature, and they have at least an even chance with their opponents of carrying both their State ticket and the Legislature at the coming election. Delaware will maintain a Democratic representation in the Senate. Hendricks, the outgoing Senator from Indiana is a Democrat, and will probably be succeeded by a Republican. The vacancies for Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Rhode Island, Vermont and West Virginia, will undoubtedly be filled with Union Senators. Nebraska and Nevada may perhaps be considered doubtful. In New York and New Jersey, the chances are in favor of the Democrats. Buckalew, of Pennsylvania, who will go out in 1869 is a Democrat, and his place will probably be filled by a Union man. The term of Doolittle of Wisconsin will also expire at the same time and it is safe to assume that the Unionists of that will elect a more faithful Senator. We have thus enumerated all the States which have chosen, or will choose, Senators who will take their seats at the beginning of the next Administration. Of the seats which will be vacated, fourteen are filled by Unionists and seven by Democrats. There is not the smallest chance of the election of a Democratic Senator in either of the States of Maine, Michigan, Vermont, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, West Virginia or Rhode Island, while we have an even chance with the Democrats in Connecticut, Indiana and Pennsylvania, and much more than an even chance in Nevada, Wisconsin and Nebraska. From the foregoing statements it will be seen that it is virtually impossible for the Democratic strength in the Senate to be more than four or five votes greater after the 4th of March, 1869, than it is now. It is even probable that their net gain will not exceed two votes. But saying nothing of probabilities, and looking solely at the facts which are suggested by the considerations we have stated, there would seem to be little prospect that the sympathizers with the "lost cause" will obtain control of the country immediately. We shall have two thirds of the Senate for the next three years beyond any question, and will elect a majority of the next House before the close of the present year. This, with Grant for President, will be entirely satisfactory to all Union men.

Railroad Prospects

The arrival of Messrs. Perine and Brooks from San Francisco, the reception of various items of news concerning the railroad project with which they are connected, and the movements which are being made by various parties in the city, are incidents which give a new impetus to railroad talk and speculations among us. We publish elsewhere an article from a San Francisco paper which will be found to contain matters of interest in this connection. Of the designs of those who have the project in contemplation, we are not particularly advised, but are assured that their purpose is "business," and that it will very soon be made apparent. We hope to be able to gratify our readers with particular information on the subject in a short time.

THE MEETING LAST NIGHT.—The Union meeting last night was attended by several hundred persons, all animated by the best of feeling and by a purpose to give a good account of Portland in the coming elections. There can be no doubt that the Union party has a large majority in this city, and the meeting last evening, as the first which has been held, is significant of the determination of the party here to maintain the record it has made. It is only necessary to present a ticket judiciously made up of good material, and there cannot be the smallest doubt of our complete triumph. The party is still animated with all of its former confidence and enthusiasm, and it will go into the campaign without thinking once of such a word as failure. We are going in to win, and we tell the opposition to look out!

The official vote in the late special election for Congressman in the Eighth Ohio District is published. The Union candidate was elected by 815 majority. The Union majority in the District last fall was only 247. In the late special election the Union vote as compared with that of October last was increased 280, while the Democratic vote fell off 303. Much interest was taken in the election, not only in the District but throughout the county, and the result is justly regarded as proof that the Republicans can carry Ohio by a large majority.

The Indiana Democratic Convention commenced its platform by saying that language failed to express its abhorrence of the reconstruction policy of Congress. The same party found language inadequate to express its abhorrence of the war by which the rebellion was suppressed.

GRAND RONDE.—A letter from Grand Ronde Valley informs us that up to the 1st of January the weather was very open and pleasant, but from that date to the 12th of February it was quite cold. There has been very little snow in the valley, and hay was worth only twelve dollars per ton.

During the last few weeks the M. E. Church at the Dalles has been having a revival. A large number of converts has been made. The meetings are still continued.

Memorial of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company

From the Alta California, Feb. 21.

The Directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company have lately published a pamphlet of fifty six pages containing a memorial to Congress, letters of Generals Grant, Meiggs and Ingalls, and a report of Edwin F. Johnson, Chief Engineer of the road. The memorial states that the grant of land has not been sufficient to induce capitalists to purchase bonds or to take stock, and that a loan of Government bonds similar to that given to the Union Pacific is needed to secure the completion of the work. A bill granting this aid having been reported favorably in the Senate, and private letters having announced that there is much probability of its passage, the project has acquired additional interest, especially to this coast, all portions of which will be benefited by the completion of the road.

The Northern Line has some decided advantages over either the Middle or Southern routes in the fertility of the soil, the number of navigable rivers, and the freedom from snow. The distance from the navigable waters of the Missouri to those of the Flathead, a tributary of the Columbia, is only two hundred miles, but the navigation of both streams is beset with various difficulties which make a railroad preferable. From St. Louis to Fort Benton the freight by river is $300 to $400 per ton, the insurance is twenty per cent, and the distance 3,400 miles. On the Upper Columbia and its tributaries the distance by the river as compared with a direct line is still greater, and the cost of transportation higher. The snow at Fort Benton is in ordinary winters only six inches deep, and at Cadott's Pass, the highest point, about one foot. The Rocky Mountains are passed at an elevation of only 6,167 feet and the Cascades at only 3,033, so that the grades are much easier than in some other places. On the other hand, the Northern route is at a great disadvantage in not having a wealthy community at its western terminus, and in not passing through interior settlements as populous as those of Utah, Nevada and Colorado.

Mr. Johnson, in estimating the cost of the Northern road, divides it into three divisions: First, from Lake Superior to the South point of the Judith Mountains, in longitude 109° W., 891 miles; second, from the Judith Mountains to the crossing of the Columbia river, in 119° W., 660 miles, and third, from the Columbia to Seattle, 220 miles. The estimated cost of a double track road per mile for the first division is $62,740; for the second, $99,524; and for the third, $81,312—making an average of $79,196, or $140,3[illegible]500 for the entire 1,775 miles. This estimate includes 380 locomotives, 186 passenger cars and 9,000 baggage cars. It is assumed that there will be three passenger and five freight trains each way daily. The expenses of the Oregon Branch, from the crossing of the Columbia at the mouth of Snake river, to Portland, a distance of 200 miles, is put down at $16,180,000.

From the map and profile accompanying the report of Mr. Johnson, we compile the following table, showing the altitude in feet of the principal elevations and depressions, the distances in miles between them, and the latitude of the chief bends of the road:

| Points | Altitude | Distance | Lat |
|---|---|---|---|
| Lake Superior | 600 | | 46 5 |
| Divide | 1 412 | 65 | |
| Mississippi River | 1 152 | 111 | |
| Divide | 1,459 | 17 | |
| Red River | 965 | 232 | 46 10 |
| Dacota River | 1 310 | 315 | |
| Divide | 2 400 | 465 | |
| Missouri River | 1 800 | 485 | 47°15' |
| Divide | 2 500 | 625 | |
| Yellowstone River | 2,100 | [illegible] | |
| Divide | 3 415 | 865 | 46°0' |
| Missouri River | 3 050 | 1,026 | 47°30' |
| Cadott's Pass | 6 167 | 1 115 | 47 00 |
| Flathead River | 3,113 | 1 225 | |
| Pend'Oreille Lake | 2,053 | 1 335 | 48°10' |
| Divide | 2 620 | 1 375 | |
| Spokane River | 1 920 | 1 408 | |
| Divide | 2 450 | 1 475 | |
| Columbia River | 500 | 1 505 | 48°15' |
| Snoqualmie Pass | 3,033 | 1 634 | |
| Seattle | 20 | 1 775 | 47°40 |

The distance from Superior City to Seattle in a direct line is computed to be 1,418 miles, and the main elevation of the route, above the sea level, 1,215 feet. A tunnel, two miles and a half long, at Cadott's Pass, will save 830 feet of elevation, and bring the highest point down to 5,330 feet.

Gen. Meiggs, whose opinion of the road was asked, wrote thus in reply:

"I am of opinion after the experience of the Quartermaster's Department during the war in reconstructing, stocking and operating over 1,700 miles of railroad, that it will prove to be true economy of time and money to send by the river, to the most advantageous points of the mountain mineral districts, the workmen, the machinery and the tools to open mines of coal and iron, to establish saw mills, rolling mills and factories, in which the lumber, the iron, and probably a portion of the rolling stock of the road can be manufactured. * * * The enterprise is one worthy of the nation. As a military measure, contributing to national security and defence alone, it is worthy the cost of effectual assistance from the Government."

General Grant endorsed General Meiggs' letter, and said:

"I would merely give it as my opinion that the enterprise of constructing the Northern Pacific Railroad is one well worth fostering by the General Government, and that such aid could well be afforded as would insure the early prosecution of the work."

The following is part of the opinion of General Ingalls:

"In my opinion, from an experience of several years in the Quartermaster's Department in the West and Northwest, it is of the utmost importance to the nation that this road should be constructed at the earliest possible moment and a through line of communication opened from the Great lakes to the Pacific Ocean, by the head waters of the Mississippi and Missouri."

One important point to be gained by this road is the annexation of British Columbia, but the best method of effecting the annexation is not clear. Perhaps if the authorities of that Colony would appoint a Commissioner to treat with the administration, or with some Committee of the Senate, the end could be reached conveniently. That the whole coast north of us is to be American seems to be regarded now by many of the leading citizens of Victoria and New Westminster as inevitable, and the only questions with them are as to the time, mode and conditions of the change of flag. The Northern Pacific railroad may be introduced as a very important element in the conditions.

Union Club Meeting

The meeting called to organize a Union Club in this city met last evening. Its proceedings were most harmonious and enthusiastic. A preliminary organization was effected by calling Hon. P. J. Dryer to the Chair and appointing C. W. Parrish and E. D. Backenstos Secretaries.

J. N. Dolph, E. Hamilton and C. Beal were appointed a committee to draft resolutions expressive of the principles which the Club will sustain.

Hon. J. H. Mitchell moved that a committee on permanent organization be appointed, which was carried. The Chair therefore appointed and the house confirmed the following named gentlemen to constitute said committee: Hon. J. H. Mitchell, Hon. E. D. Shattuck, Hon. Philip Wasserman, Capt. A. P. Ankeny and Capt. O. Regan.

These preliminaries being finished, the meeting was addressed successively by Hon. J. H. Mitchell, Hon. A. C. Gibbs, and W. D. Hare, Esq., of Washington county. Each of the speeches was stirring and forcible, was listened to with attention and received with enthusiasm.

On motion, the meeting adjourned to meet on Thursday evening of next week.

ROBBED.—A young man by the name of Abrams left his home in Oregon some few weeks ago, with over $1,800 in dust and coin, intending to go to San Francisco to go into business. He arrived in Chico on the Oregon stage, which lays over night at this place, fell in with gamblers who fleeced him of a considerable amount of money, and in order to "get even" (foolish fellow—just as if there was an instance on record of a dupe getting even, they always sink deeper) remained here for a day or two, or at least long enough to lose $1,800, when he left with shame on his countenance, chagrin in his heart, and but a few dollars in his pocket.—Chico Courant.

The Vicksburg Herald believes it would be hazardous to Conservative interests in the South to attempt to rally under the name of Democracy, "as its very name, in the opinion of a vast majority of the people, is synonymous with secession, which the people hold was the cause of all our troubles."

The schooner Spray, with a cargo of oysters from Tillamook for San Francisco, in sailing out of Netarts Bay a few days ago drifted ashore on the north spit at the mouth of the Bay and in a short time went to pieces. A part of the cargo was saved.

A letter from Canyon City to the Mountaineer states that Col. Baker left last week for Camp Harney with about half his command.

Railroad Progress

From the S. F. Bulletin, Feb. [illegible]

Every new fact about the great railway projects is encouraging, and the following statements are especially so: There are now 8,000 men at work on the Central Pacific Railroad east of the Sierra Nevada. The Company have made every arrangement to construct during the present year no less than 400 miles of the road, and that [illegible]. This will take them into the Utah Basin and within 200 miles of Salt Lake, and with [illegible] with what is already constructed, [illegible] the [illegible] about 10 miles of track [illegible] ment. [illegible] the contract [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] [illegible] the West to Promontory [illegible] freight [illegible] the ties are on hand and the completion [illegible] the Rivers will [illegible] before next winter. Thus the builders of the Central Pacific Railroad have undertaken to make over 400 miles of railway within the next twelve months, at the end of which period, if their intentions are realized, they will have in position a [illegible] line connecting the Utah Basin with the Bay of San Francisco, crossing the Sierra Nevada and traversing the [illegible] agricultural and mining [illegible] of two States. Judging from the energy and success that have hitherto attended the Company which has this matter in charge, and remembering that they have not yet failed to redeem their promises, there seems to be every reason to believe that they will, if not unwisely hampered in any way, complete the great task here outlined in the time set. This must immediately have a great effect upon the business of California, and must decide the control of the traffic with Utah and Montana. Equal exertions will be made by the Union Pacific Company to push their road westward, and it is said they intend to construct this year fully 400 miles beyond the present terminus. If the programme of both companies is carried out, there will remain to be constructed of the great Pacific Railroad, on the first of January next, scarcely so much as 400 miles, and this remainder would be built by the two companies, competing energetically to control the trade of the great basin, within eight months longer. On this showing there really seems a probability that at the end of eighteen months from this time there will be a continuous track from New York to San Francisco, a distance of 3,300 miles, over which the passenger trip can be made easily in from eight to ten days, or by express time in six days. Going through by night and day trains, without stopping, on an average speed of a little less than 23 miles an hour would suffice to make the through trip in six days. But it is more likely that passengers would prefer to stop three or four days for rest and observation, making the whole trip in the time first mentioned.

Oregon is hastening to share with us the advantages of railroad communication. Recently we stated that the iron and rolling stock for all miles of the Oregon Central Railroad, from Portland to Salem, had been shipped at the east, and that the work of construction would begin on its arrival. We are now able to state that the first cargo of material has actually reached this port. The ship Winged Arrow, which arrived from Boston last evening, brought the first lot of iron, consigned to the Oregon Central Railroad Company, of which Gov. George L. Woods is President. Three other vessels are now due from Boston—namely the Nettie G. Hall, North Star and Maria J. Smith—with further consignments of iron and a portion of rolling stock and machinery, including two locomotives, for the same road. This certainly looks like business. The material will be transhipped on coasters for Oregon as rapidly as possible, and agents of the company go forward immediately to arrange for beginning the work of grading. The contractors intend, and are confident of their ability, to build the first division of the Oregon Central Railroad, which embraces the fifty miles between Portland and Salem, by January next. There are no great difficulties to encounter. The road bed will lie all the way through the Willamette Valley, which extends 100 miles south of Salem, and is one of the most lovely and fertile valleys on the western slope of the continent. The contract is let for the whole length of this valley, 150 miles. There has been a great deal of unreasonable opposition to this railroad project in Oregon, but with the arrival of material and commencement of actual operations this may be expected to cease. The peculiar topography of Oregon, with her long arable valleys shut off from the coast by a mountain wall, and no direct outlet to the sea, renders railroads extremely desirable, and the Oregon Central will be the trunk line for the whole State, aiming to reach the California line ultimately, and to connect with the system of roads now being constructed in the Sacramento Valley.

An inquisitive chap asked a soldier with an empty sleeve where he had lost his arm. "In a threshing machine," answered the soldier. "Were you running the machine?" "Well, no; General Grant had charge."

Rather Rough Challenge.—THE BILLIARD TABLE, a monthly New York paper of that name published in the interest of Kavanagh & Decker, Billiard Manufacturers of New York, has the following challenge in its November number, which we consider worthy to call the attention of our Billiard Manufacturers of this State:

CHALLENGE.—We will place $1,000 in the hands of any responsible party, whenever any manufacturer or manufacturers of Billiard Tables in the world shall signify a willingness to test the merits of his or their cushion with ours, and to venture a like sum on the decision. The cushions to be submitted to the examination of a committee of impartial and scientific men, who shall have power to investigate their merits thoroughly by actual trial with balls dissection, etc.

This wager is not offered for the purpose of winning money, but solely to afford convincing proof that the cut cushion is superior to all others, and we should prefer that the money staked should go to some charitable object.

We invite the especial attention of Messrs. Phelan & Collender to this challenge. feb2d&wlt

DENTIST.

THOSE WHO DESIRE FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE. The nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold. It makes the plate twice as strong and one third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. This new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where the work can be had. The improvement is known by a patent from the United States Patent Office, Dec. 1st, 1867. He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his office. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

THE BURGLARY CASE.—We mentioned yesterday morning that two of the burglars engaged in breaking into Ada Phillip's house were arrested and that a third man escaped. We have to lay some further particulars of the affair. The officers, it seems, knew all the parties to the crime, and after locking up the two captured birds went after the other, found him in bed and jugged him also. By an inadvertence in the item of yesterday morning, the name of Deputy Brannan was omitted from the list of policemen engaged in the arrests. He however played a conspicuous part in the business. The officers were stationed as follows: Marshal Jacobi in a vacant lot just outside Phillips' enclosure on the side toward Taylor street. The burglars passed close by him to enter the enclosure through a small gateway. Slocum was in the main hall of the house, behind an open door. Bothwell was in a closet of the bedroom into which the burglars gained entrance. Partlow was hidden in a little outbuilding and plainly saw the burglars enter the gate and pass and repass as they tried the various doors and windows. McCoy and Brannan were just outside the enclosure on the side toward Yamhill street, and watched the burglars through an opening in the fence. When the denouement occurred in the house the two outside accomplices started to run toward the rear of the premises. The instant they started, McCoy stepped out from his hiding place, almost in front of them, and ordered them to halt, and fired one shot as they rushed by him. They next had to pass Partlow, who also called a halt and fired at the legs of one of them as they passed him. The larger of the two [illegible] the little gateway first and got through, but Partlow and McCoy were so hard on the heels of the other that he had not time to get through the narrow gate and so dodged to one side and threw himself face downward alongside the fence, evidently supposing that he might thus be overlooked. Partlow, however, saw the dodge and ran straight to him, called him by name, and made him get up. The other man had to pass Marshal Jacobi who also cried "halt," and as the fellow ran, fired one or two shots after him. At the instant the escape started to run, Brannan ran round to the front to intercept any who might attempt an escape that way. The names by which the burglars are known are, Kelly, Simpson, and Brooks, alias "Ragged Bill." We doubt if burglars ever before were more completely entrapped and surprised. From the moment of their entrance upon the premises they were surrounded by policemen and every movement they made was seen and every word they uttered, heard. The whole business on the part of the police seems to have been admirably worked up and this example of their success, may serve to warn other [illegible] now in the city that their operations cannot be [illegible] without great danger of becoming known and [illegible] check-mated.

POSTAL MATTERS.—Since the close of navigation on the Columbia, several of the up-country newspapers have taken [illegible] to abuse Postal Agent Brooks, for the non-carriage of the paper mails. Had any of those papers taken the trouble to know what were the circumstances regarding the mail service, we doubt if they would have fallen to [illegible] the agent. The contract for carrying the mails was let by the Post-office Department, Mr Brooks having no control or say in the matter. The Department contracted with the O. S. N. Co. to carry the mails in steamboats between Portland and Dalles. When the river closed, that company claimed that they were released by "act of God" from performing the service as [illegible]. Mr Brooks had no authority to compel them to perform the service, nor had he power to contract with other [illegible]. The Department, only, lets contracts. Mr. Brooks may take, and in some cases has taken, the [illegible] of providing for temporary service in case the [illegible] fail or throw up, but this action goes for [illegible] the Department subsequently ratifies it. In this case, Mr. Brooks immediately effected an arrangement for a weekly letter mail service, the cost of it to be [illegible] from the contract price to be paid the O. S. N. Co. It was simply an impossibility to transport the paper mails by the trail, except at such enormous cost as would have been instantly repudiated by the Department at Washington. Mr Brooks, in our [illegible] the best he could under the circumstances and [illegible] the fact that he was not required by law or [illegible] to do anything under such circumstances except to report the facts to the Department, the papers or the people east of the mountains have no real cause to [illegible] at what he did do. Heretofore, if they will re[illegible], when the Columbia has been closed with ice, they had no mail communication with this valley. Mr B[illegible] action in securing them a regular letter mail, was [illegible] never done before, for them or us. If the [illegible] made by the Department with the O. S. N. Co. [illegible] terms as permit them to omit service under [illegible], the Department alone is blameable. [illegible] had no hand in that matter, any more than [illegible] papers of the Columbia valley. He has been [illegible] and has done numberless acts to perfect and [illegible] the mail facilities of this district, and in doing so [illegible] taken the great risk of having his acts disap[illegible] in which case he must have been, pecuniarily, a [illegible] the greatly improved facilities over [illegible], effected through Mr. Brooks' active agency, [illegible] under the circumstances, sounds badly, and [illegible] to the fairness of the grumblers.

[illegible] OF NORMAL SCHOOLS.—We have before us a copy of Mr. John C. Pelton's Annual Report on the [illegible] of San Francisco—a volume of 249 pages. We have given it some examination with a view to learn what he might have to say concerning the Normal School of [illegible]. Just as we anticipated, we find that Mr Pelton [illegible] whenever he has occasion to say anything [illegible] in the hig[illegible] terms of the Normal School and the [illegible] it has furnished the public schools of the city [illegible]. The schools of San Francisco—a legion of [illegible] employ a greater number of teachers fitted in [illegible] institution, than are from any other school in the [illegible]. Mr. Pelton says: "Those more recently [illegible] who have been educated in our own schools—[illegible] Schools and Normal School have proved [illegible] and faithful; those from the Normal [illegible] ambitious and succ[illegible]." We trust [illegible] the voices of such men as Mr. Pelton, [illegible] of the California schools, will induce the [illegible] of popular education in Oregon, to do something toward a State Normal School than the pas[illegible] resolution in its favor.

[illegible] ICE.—The steamer Couch which came up [illegible] along with or near the Continental till within [illegible] miles of the Willamette river, found the ice, at last, too heavy to make head against without danger [illegible] the Captain concluded to tie up till morning [illegible] this city about nine o'clock yesterday [illegible]. One or two passengers who came up on her [illegible] to beat the Continental were "alight[illegible] at the ice, the slow speed of the steamer [illegible] at the tying up business. The Continental [illegible] the severe work she had to do to [illegible] through the ice, the paint along her water [illegible] off, from bow to stern.

[illegible]—Navigation of the Columbia river is [illegible]. The Cascade went, yesterday, to the lower landing of the Cascades and returned, arriving [illegible] o'clock P. M. The Idaho arrived from the [illegible] an hour after the Cascade landed, bringing [illegible] mails and express. The ice is out and gone [illegible] down, and from a point about half a [illegible] la P'ag. Hereafter, the steamers will run upon their old time schedules. Glory to the [illegible], the rains and the Chinook winds.

THE O[illegible].—The Record thus notices the opposition on the upper river: "We are told the old steamer [illegible] ran a race with the new opposition boat Lew[illegible] late trip up the river, and ran around her [illegible] times before reaching Butteville. The opposition must "git up and dust" better than that, if they want the trade of this valley. As they are said to have made an offer to sell out thus early, we much fear they won't [illegible] much good for us."

[illegible] COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—The following pro[illegible] were had in the Circuit Court, yesterday, 26th:
State of Oregon vs Dong Choi and Di Cumb, defend[illegible] to pay a fine of $100 each and costs, and in default to go to jail for fifty days.
State of Oregon vs Wong Choi; case submitted to jury.
C. B. C[illegible] & Co., vs Dr. Williams, action on [illegible] delivery of oats. Jury empanneled.

[illegible].—Capt. Fisher, of the Ranger, from [illegible] Sunday, informs us that the steamer Rain[illegible] went up the Cowlitz last Saturday and should have [illegible] back on Monday, but had not been heard from when he left yesterday morning, and it was feared she [illegible]. Her last on a snag. In coming up the river the [illegible] encountered a good deal of running ice, much of it cakes of considerable thickness.

MISTAKE AS TO IDENTITY.—A few days since Marshal Jacobi appointed as a Deputy Marshal, Mr J. M. McCoy, late one of the guards at the Insane Asylum. Many of [illegible] suppose that the appointee is our friend J. F. McCoy, attorney, and formerly City Recorder. This is a mistake, as J. F. McCoy is still practising law, and doing [illegible] too well at that to think of accepting any office at all.

[illegible] COUNCIL.—As was anticipated there was no [illegible] of the members present and, therefore, no business transacted. Mayor Chapman, as usual, was [illegible] and called the Board to order, but as upon the [illegible] only two members—Messrs Burch and Porter—[illegible], he adjourned the Council to the next regular night of meeting.

ROW AMONG THE INDIANS.—An extensive row among the "[illegible]" occurred at a rancheria west of the city [illegible] evening—a furious attack being made by several barbarian cusses upon the castle of the civilized [illegible]. John's account of it, in the Recorder's Court, yesterday, was pathetic, graphic and harrowing, and sent the [illegible] graces, each five days in the city jail.

LAMPS LIGHTED.—The new oil lamps on Fourth street were lighted for the first time last evening—one at its junction with Madison and Fourth, the second at the corner of Columbia, and the third at the corner of the grounds of St. Mary's Academy. The dwellers in those neighborhoods, are highly pleased with the improvement.

PORTLAND LIBRARY ASSOCIATION ELECTION.—The vote on the [illegible] amendment to the Constitution of the Portland Library Association, was taken yesterday with the following result: Whole number of votes polled, 46, for the amendment, 37, against, 9, majority for the amendment, 28; so the amendment is adopted.

PORTLAND LIBRARY.—The following new books have just been received at the Portland Library: The Empress Josephine, by Muhlbach. Napoleon and the Queen of Prussia, by Muhlbach. The Huguenots, by Smiles. Mace's Fairy Book, by Jean Mace. The Friendships of Women, by Alger.

THANKS.—We are indebted to Mr. Briggs of Wells Fargo & Co., for files of Eastern Oregon, Washington Territory and Idaho papers by the steamer express of yesterday. Their news items will be found elsewhere in this paper.

SOIREE.—Prof Cardinell will give another of his popular soirees this evening at his Dancing Academy, on First street.

ADVANCE ON UNION PACIFIC BONDS.—We learn from the officers of the Union Pacific Railroad Company that the price of the Company's First Mortgage Bonds has been advanced from 90 to 95 cents on the dollar, and that they will probably be placed at par before long. The sales of these bonds during the past few months have been very large, [illegible] dollars having been already disposed of to parties throughout the country. So active was the increasing demand for these securities that it was probable that five millions more would be sold in the first week of February if the price had been allowed to remain at [illegible]. It has been frequently asserted in the advertisements of the Company [illegible] that the price would probably be advanced, and those who took the hint, and bought at 90, may now see the wisdom of so doing. The Company is now in high credit and has a handsome surplus of cash on hand for the future prosecution of the work of construction. We are gratified at these evidences of complete prosperity on the part of this great [illegible].

PRODUCE RECEIPTS.—The following produce was received yesterday: Per Senator, 122 [illegible], [illegible] and 3 sks dried apples, [illegible] apples, 8 [illegible] butter, 6 rolls leather, 1 bale deer skins, 1 [illegible] sacks flour, 32 hf bbls lard, 65 sacks feed, [illegible] eggs, [illegible] bales furs, 43 gunnies bacon. Per Alert, 60 sacks flour, 708 bags wheat, 547 boxes apples, 55 sacks feed, 65 sacks barley, 1 coop chickens.

"MAKERS" INSTEAD OF "DEALERS."—At the close of an item, yesterday morning concerning the Portland Boot and Shoe Manufacturing Company, the word "dealers" should have been "makers," as it is the intention to invite the makers only.

FROM ST HELENS.—The lumbering mills of Messrs Ritchie & Co., at St. Helens, were started again last Monday and are now running to their full capacity with two engines and all the machinery. The company proposes to drive a vigorous spring campaign.

THE CONTINENTAL'S FREIGHT.—The steamship Continental brought up about four hundred and fifty tons merchandise—all consigned to this city.

MESSAGE.—There is a message at the telegraph office for T. J. Gottle.

The ladies of the congregation Beth Israel are kindly requested to meet at the Synagogue, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

OH YES! OH YES! OH YES!—Attention, everybody. In order to make room for our spring stock of goods from New York, we will sell our extensive stock of clothing, regardless of cost for the next thirty days. Our object not being the cost of the goods so much as the CASH MONISH FOR THE FREIGHT. Wm. Currier & Co., 103, Front street.

OLYMPIC THEATER.—This place of amusement has been closed for two or three nights, and Joe Delavan says he will not re-open till he can open right—probably about Saturday night.

[From the Providence Journal.]

The Pain Killer Abroad.

The following correspondence will show something of the estimation in which Perry Davis' Pain Killer is held on the shores of the Mediterranean. It is not surprising that a medicine that receives such testimonials as this from abroad, should find well sustained and increasing appreciation at home.

U. S. CONSULATE, Tunis, Dec 27, 1865.

To the Proprietors of Davis' Pain Killer, Providence, R. I.—Gentlemen:—The enclosed has just been received from my friend Tulin, late Consul General of Norway and Sweden and of Prussia in this place. No comment is needed. Truly yours, AMOS PERRY.

GENOA, December 16, 1865.

Dear Sir:—Accept thanks for this third supply of Davis' "Pain Killer." This medicine has often relieved me of serious indisposition and I would not on any account consent to be without it both for myself and my family.

I have recommended it to my late colleagues and friends in Tunis and Genoa, and at my request one of the largest druggists in this city has sent an order to New York to meet the demand in this place.

Yours truly, G. A. TULIN,
Ex Consul Gen'l of Sweden, Norway & Prussia in Tunis.

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers, Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water. Invigorates the organs of digestion [illegible]
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness.
Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a General Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

Miscellaneous.

525 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED

THIS BRINGS THE LINE TO THE EASTERN BASE of the Rocky Mountains and it is expected the track will be laid thirty miles further to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred Work in the rock cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16 000 to $48 000 per mile for which it takes a second lien as security and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services These bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished and after it has been [illegible] by the United States Commissioners and [illegible] to be in all respects a first class road thoroughly supplied with depots repair shops stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments

The United States also makes a donation of 12 800 acres of land to the mile which will be a source of large revenue to the Company Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more Hon E D Morgan and Hon Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses so that they always represent an actual and productive value

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue if not another mile were built It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent and as there will be no competition it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is in fact a Government Work built under the supervision of Government officers and to a large extent with Government money and that its bonds are issued under Government direction It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property As the Company s

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are carefully and cured before it is too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases a specialist [illegible] years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATION IN ALL CASES, FREE

 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED

 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] tive but the desire to point out to those who languish and decay the true cause of their [illegible] is too great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How [illegible] the terrible disease of Seminal Weakness is, [illegible] one but the practical specialist who devotes his time to its treatment can tell but its presence can be detected by the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms Weakness of the back and limbs [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power [illegible] cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot hands [illegible] of consumption, short breath flushings of the face, aversion to society confusion of the mind, loss of [illegible] nightly emissions; colorless; slight discharges upon the least excitement trembling; palpitation of the heart, irregular appetite; variable temper etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the various symptoms enumerated above, pause to consider. The present is the golden moment in which you may [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel strong now, [illegible] you have ever practiced the vice of self-abuse even in [illegible] you have the seeds of weakness [illegible] system and their [illegible] will, sooner or later dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground leaving you a helpless, abject being. It is [illegible] disease that declares itself at once Therein lies its greatest danger; for while the patient is being treated for affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive Organs he sinks into a general debility that soon adds [illegible] to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder, Seminal Weakness.

See in the bent form and languishing steps, the [illegible] victim of the fascinating vice Mark the course of [illegible] destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye.

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms [illegible] first it is easily shaken off but it grows eventually [illegible] great disinclination to pursue his regular business. The mind becomes apprehensive and restless nights [illegible] days of [illegible]

It is the nature of the complaint to [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery In a single instant it may wither your fondest hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] denly fails, and he finds himself in a deplorable [illegible] from which there is but the slightest hope of [illegible] Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are [illegible] ny distorted decrepid, and degenerate. This is [illegible] ble to both sexes whether married or single, and to all times of life

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of the terrible complaint or if your acts have been such as to [illegible] to them but by instant application secure to [illegible] only hope of health and happiness The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures, when [illegible] time always guaranteed and full and proper vigor restored

The afflicted are assured of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute, the number of cases of Venereal that have been treated show a record unsurpassed by any [illegible] in the world and the success that has invariably [illegible] the course of treatment

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not called for but actually dangerous [illegible] it is a the [illegible] established medical principle that these p[illegible] by entering the blood, ruin the constitution and life

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases in a few days and finds no difficulty in curing those of long duration without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion or oblige him to neglect his business whether in-doors or without The diet need not be changed Cures always guaranteed, or no pay required

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES,

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with [illegible] requires medical or surgical assistance the inquiry [illegible] be Where is there a physician competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary [illegible] requirements are feels called upon to interpose, by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for [illegible] ty years and is fully qualified to administer in all both medically and surgically not in a superficial [illegible] but in a thorough manner as years of study and [illegible] both in hospitals and private families—can make, to [illegible] them from the hands of the unqualified unscrupulous designing Therefore families can rely upon him as a father All in affliction can find in him one whose [illegible] and sympathise with and befriend them in [illegible] in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be [illegible] consultation by letter or otherwise free. Cures [illegible] teed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex. Private apartments are provided when desired, where [illegible] be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor and the most skillful and and faithful [illegible]

To CORRESPONDENTS —Persons, either male or female residing in the interior are often deterred from [illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor incur the expense of a visit to [illegible] ty To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and those bearing upon the complaint, will enable him to prepare for them so that they can be cured at home None [illegible] have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor and will be treated with the utmost confidence and be returned or destroyed
